OTHER PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENTS (ADVOCACY AND PRACTICE):

2016-Present Director, Health and Human Rights Initiative, O’Neill Institute for National and Global Health Law, Georgetown University Law Center, Washington, D.C.

- I. Advancing scholarship and advocacy regarding using human rights law to promote social change in health, at international and national levels. Activities include:
  - Participating in forums regarding constitutional reform (Chile) and constitutional implementation (e.g., Kenya, Mexico);
  - Conducting seminars for high-court and constitutional court judges and judicial colloquia relating to health rights (Uganda, Mexico);
  - Providing amicus curiae briefs or expert testimony in landmark cases in national courts (e.g. Kenya) and supra-national forums (e.g., Inter-American Court of Human Rights; Inter-American Commission on Human Rights; Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights);
  - Convening and participating in inter-disciplinary expert groups to advance state-of-the-art methodologies, empirical evidence and normative understanding of health priority setting and the right to health, in the era of SDGs;
  - Leading multi-country research and advocacy on sexual and reproductive health and rights, including regarding implementation of supra-national judgments (e.g. Alyne da Silva Pimentel) and the UN Technical Guidance on HRBAs to MM (see below), as well as the establishment of international standards through General Comments and litigation.

- II. Developing innovative pedagogies and outreach approaches to human rights through multi-disciplinary collaborations. Activities include:
  - “Dialogues on Being Human: Intersections between Art, Dignity and Well-being,” and
  - Harvard’s Global Health Education and Learning Incubator videos and other open access teaching resources on an ‘Introduction to the History of Human Rights,’ a ‘Brief Overview of Health and Human Rights,’ and ‘Health, human Rights, and the SDGs,’ which are intended for non-specialist audiences.

- III. Exploring and promoting accountability in global health in Sustainable Development Goals era. Activities include:
  - Participating in Expert Group Meetings and consultations relating to development of indicators (5.6.1 and 5.6.2) to measure targets under Sustainable Development Goals
  - Interrogating issues of knowledge creation and politics that lie at the intersections of human rights and development agendas, as part of research network project on “Data and Politics in the Sustainable Development Goals.”

2016-Present Panelist, UN Secretary General’s Independent Accountability Panel for the Global Strategy for Women’s Children’s and Adolescents’ Health (EWEC)

Expanded conceptual framework for accountability in global health for IAP to be aligned with international law, participated in sub-committee for drafting IAP report on private sector accountability, participated in all aspects of public hearings, high-level meetings and fund-raising.

2011-2016

Policy Director, François-Xavier Bagnoud Center for Health and Human Rights, Harvard University, Boston/Cambridge, MA (2011-14 Director, Program on the Health Rights of Women and Children, François-Xavier Bagnoud Center for Health and Human Rights)

- I. Led action-oriented research designed to change fields of knowledge and policy approaches regarding critical, health-related rights issues.
  - Principal Investigator for a multi-country, quantitative/qualitative study documenting the cumulative burden of maternal mortality on the family and the community. Study findings used for policy advocacy at national and international levels regarding sustained funding for maternal and sexual and reproductive health, and led to Unicef programmatic intervention with maternal orphans in Tanzania;
  - Co-PI of ‘The Power of Numbers: A Critical Review of MDG Targets for Human Development and Human Rights’, which reframed questions regarding “achievement of the MDGs” in terms of the impact of specific MDGs targets on funding and policy. Findings have been taken up in proposals by OHCHR, UNFPA and UN Women, on goals, targets and indicators in the post 2015 agenda.
  - Regularly provided strategic advice to expert bodies on approaches to health rights adjudication and remedies (e.g., UN Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, Colombian Constitutional Court), and to litigants on cases at national and international levels across the globe relating to women’s health rights.
- II. Incorporated health-related human rights principles into international legal and development frameworks, and translating normative standards in relation to health and related rights into policy and practice.
  - Drafted the UN Technical Guidance on a Rights-Based Approach to Maternal Mortality and Morbidity for the UN OHCHR, the first concrete guidance on an HRBA to be adopted through an inter-governmental process, by resolution of the UN Human Rights Council; developed and disseminated specific operational tools (Reflection Guides) and conducted trainings with wide array of stakeholders to implement obligations under the UN Technical Guidance.
  - Led international, multi-stakeholder initiative to develop the evidence base and refine methodologies to evaluate evidence of impact of HRBAs to health, in order make application of human rights principles meaningful in practice.
  - Advised and worked with donors on operationalizing HRBAs to health, including developing specific strategy, selecting grantees and M&E frameworks for Danida’s 2014-2017 development engagement in Tanzania.
