'Stars' honored for length-of-service milestones

The annual Celebration with the Stars event honored 148 employees marking five or more years of service at the School.

Unity Reception pays tribute to Black History Month

Members of the School community came together February 26 for the 7th Annual Unity Reception. The work of Student Ambassadors was highlighted.

Obamacare under siege as Supreme Court hears case for repeal

On March 4, the Supreme Court heard oral arguments in King v. Burwell, a suit challenging implementation of the Affordable Care Act. In this Q&A, John McDonough discusses issues involved in the case.

Around the School

The science behind the new

A new twist in malaria drug resistance
dietary guidelines report
A symposium at the School explored new nutrition recommendations. Among them: Limiting foods with added sugars. Eggs are OK in moderation.

What causes ill health?
A new poll tracked the top five causes of ill health cited by the public. Those rankings diverge among ethnic groups. A Forum event was held in connection with the poll.

NCAA highlights teaching case on eating disorders among college athletes
A new teaching case developed by the STRIPED program was distributed in NCAA Sport Science Institute educational materials.

Performance Management 2015 kicks off
Visit the Performance Management website for resources and information, including the dates of upcoming helpful tips sessions for staff and managers.

Featured videos
What may happen in your lifetime as the planet warms.
Why solving the climate problem is within our reach.

Flawed Ebola response is a learning opportunity
An opening for measles
Which hospitals are best or worst? Hard to tell
Will arming women on campuses make them safer? No, says expert