Graduates urged to stay alert to unexpected opportunities

“You are not just creating a resume. You are creating a biography,” Dean Julio Frenk told graduates at the School's 2015 Commencement Ceremony. Celebrations began the day before with the unveiling of a portrait of T.H. Chan and the annual awards ceremony.

Western diet may increase risk of death after prostate cancer diagnosis

After a prostate cancer diagnosis, eating a diet higher in red and processed meat, high-fat dairy foods, and refined grains may lead to a higher risk of death than eating a healthier diet.

Air pollution below EPA standards linked with higher death rates

Death rates among people over 65 are higher in areas with more fine particulate air pollution than in those with lower levels. The effects were observed even in areas where levels were less than the current EPA standard.

Kiosk | E-news and notices from Harvard School of Public Health

If you are still having problems viewing this message, please click here for additional help.

June 4, 2015

Event Highlights

Women and Health Lancet Commission Launch

June 5
9:00 AM–2:00 PM
Kresge Cafeteria
Lunch will be served
RSVP

Harvard Heroes 2015

The School's Michelle Bell, Nicole Bellisle, Alfredo Perez-Hidalgo, and Alissa Wilcox will be recognized.

June 8
3:30 PM
Memorial Hall, Sanders Theatre, Cambridge

Virus Quantification Symposium

June 9
1:00–6:00 PM
Joseph B. Martin Conference Center

America’s Healthcare Future: Implications of the Upcoming Supreme Court Decision about the ACA

Watch live Forum webcast
June 17
12:30-1:30 PM

Event calendar >

Around the School

Moving Up and Around
Harvard: Daniel Beaudoin

Featured video
Read about Daniel Beaudoin's 28-year career path in the School's Operations Department, from staff assistant to deputy director.

Tackling malaria using the art of deception
Francisco Cai, SM '15, used his coding skills to help move forward an innovative idea for fighting the malaria-transmitting mosquito.

Big changes need a big-picture view
Benjamin Picillo, MPH '15, hopes to help government and nongovernmental bodies create strategies for achieving goals such as improving hospital care.

Telehealth: How New Technologies Are Transforming Health Care

In the news
Type 2 diabetes may protect against ALS

Inaugural Harvard Chan School Grant Manager Forum
June 9, 10:00–11:30 AM, Kresge 502
Light refreshments served
Join grant managers from across the School to socialize and share tips and tricks.

Performance Management deadline extended
Annual reviews should be completed in ePerformance by June 12.