DF/HCC Clinical Research Career Development Program – K12 – Call For Applications

Deadline: Wednesday, October 1, 2014

The DF/HCC K-12 Fellowship Advisory Committee is currently seeking applicants (physician/researchers who have completed their required clinical training in an oncology subspecialty) for the K12 Paul Calabresi Award for Clinical Oncology (PCACO) entitled “Clinical Research Career Development Program.” Funding for one new awardee will be available, retroactive to September 1, 2014. Senior fellows and junior faculty, within five years of their first appointment, are eligible, provided they do not hold R-01 or equivalent funding. The deadline for applications is October 1, 2014, with an expected award within the month.

The recipient will receive $100,000 towards salary support and additional funds for the following: (a) research expenses such as supplies, equipment, and technical personnel; (b) tuition, fees and books related to career development; (c) travel to research meetings or training; and (d) statistical services including personnel and computer time. The recipient must devote a minimum of 75% effort to the Clinical Research Career Development Program. The program is funded through fiscal year 2018 providing awardees up to 5 years of support.

Selection Process:

The DF/HCC K12 Advisory Committee will review all applications and make a final selection of the K12 awardee in October of 2014. Candidates will be chosen for participation in this program based on the following:

1. A record of outstanding scholarship in medicine or nursing and in related post-graduate work.
2. Training in a clinical subspecialty of cancer medicine, including radiation therapy, surgical oncology, medical or pediatric oncology or nursing, and excellence in the practice of his/her specialty.
3. Demonstrated commitment to, and proficiency in cancer research, as evidenced by an initial successful completion of high quality research project(s), and a preliminary record of high quality publication.
4. A proposal for a multi-year research program in translational research that, if successful, will include performance of a prospective clinical trial, and an independent career in clinical investigation
5. A plan for mentorship and formal training in laboratory (or “dry lab”) and clinical aspects of translational research. The training experience should be designed to enhance the candidate’s research capabilities. Mentors will ordinarily include both laboratory and clinical faculty members; however, it will be required that at least one of the mentors have a broad background in clinical trials design and evaluation. The candidate will actively participate in a clinical subspecialty as a basic component of the research plan. Formal training should include course work in clinical trial design, responsible conduct of research, biostatistics, and regulatory medicine, unless those courses have already been completed as part of the candidate’s fellowship or post-graduate training. Additional courses relevant to the candidate’s research interests, including hands-on training in laboratory methods and translational research, may be included in the candidate’s research plan.
6. Special attention will be given to recruitment of candidates representing diverse background and underserved groups, including minorities and women.

Eligibility:

1. All candidates must be U.S. citizens, naturalized citizens, or permanent residents. Individuals on temporary or student visas are not eligible.
2. Candidates must be able to spend a minimum of 75 percent effort conducting research and research career development including courses during the period of the award.
3. Eligible appointees must be physicians in a cancer related specialty and must hold the HMS title of Instructor as of the time of appointment.
4. Individuals who may have been or currently are a PI of an NIH R03 or R21 grant or a PHS or non-Federal award that duplicates the provisions of an R03 or R21 grant remain eligible for an NCI K12 appointment
5. Individuals are NOT eligible for an appointment if they:
 - Have been or are currently PIs on an NCI or NIH individual mentored career development career, e.g., K01, K07, K08, K23 award; an NCI Transition Career Award (K22); the Pathway to Independence (K99/R00) award; or non-PHS equivalents;

- Have been or are currently a PI on NIH research grants (such as R01, Program Project (P01) or Cancer Center (P50) grants or subprojects of such grants); and
- Have been or are currently a PI on peer-reviewed non-NIH research grants over $100,000 in direct costs per year intended for faculty independent investigators.

Application Format:

A formal application will be required, in which the candidate will present:

1. K12 Application Cover Sheet. (Please use the coversheet located on page 3 of this notice.)
2. A complete curriculum vitae and bibliography
3. A proposal for a multiyear research project in clinical or translational cancer research. This should be organized as follows (maximum length: 5 pages): Introduction, Specific Aims, Background and Rationale, Preliminary Findings, Experimental Plan, Timetable for completion of project and references. References are not included within the 5-page limit.
4. A plan for didactic coursework (maximum length: one page). The plan should include training in the responsible conduct of research and service on a DFHCC scientific Review committee for at least one year. The candidates training plan should include taking the year long course in Translational Research offered by Harold Burstein, MD, PhD at the DFCI.
5. A plan for mentorship (maximum length: one page)
6. Attestation of support from both the institution and the proposed mentor(s), in letter format. A total of three letters of recommendation must accompany applications. This includes a letter from the candidate's Chief of Service, in which the institution's commitment to the long-term development of the candidate's career is stated. If the candidate is not already in a faculty position, the institution should provide evidence of intent to support promotion of the candidate to faculty status in a clinical oncology department (Radiation Therapy, Surgery, Medical, Pediatric or Nursing Oncology).

If you wish to apply for this award, please email your application by Wednesday, October 1, 2014 to Lee Jaffe at LBJAFFE@PARTNERS.ORG.

Please do not include copies of IRB protocols. All files must be in PDF format and the reference letters must include signatures. If you submit more than one PDF file, please label each file "Applicant's Last Name # of #". For example, if the applicant's last name is John Anderson, the files should be named as follows:

Anderson 1 of 6.pdf
 Anderson 2 of 6.pdf
 Anderson 3 of 6.pdf
 etc.

HBS-HMS Health Acceleration Challenge

The HBS- HMS Health Acceleration Challenge has gone live. You can learn more about the Challenge on the Forum for Health Care Innovation's website, by watching this video, or by reading the flyer. You can also click through to the OpenForum platform to see applications as they are submitted.

This challenge is open to anyone who you think may have a proven innovation that, if widely adopted, could dramatically change health care delivery in the US? Specifically, we are looking for solutions that have already been implemented at least once and have demonstrated effectiveness. This "scale-up" competition seeks to shorten the time frame for innovation dissemination.

Finalists get a case written about them, share $150,000, and have the opportunity to present at the Forum on Health Care Innovation conference in April.

Application Deadline: September 29, 2014

Harvard - Climate Change Solutions Fund

For research initiatives intended to hasten the transition from carbon-based energy systems to those that rely on renewable energy sources, to develop methods for diminishing the impact of existing carbon-based energy systems on the climate, and to propel innovations needed to accelerate progress toward cleaner energy and a greener world. Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation Grand Challenges Explorations

The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation is now inviting applications to Grand Challenges Explorations, which has awarded over 1070 grants in over 58 countries to date.

Grand Challenges Explorations seeks innovative global health and development solutions. Applicants can be at any experience level; in any discipline; and from any organization, including universities, government laboratories, research institutions, non-profit organizations as well as for-profit companies.

Two-page proposals are being accepted online from September 4, 2014 until November 12, 2014 on the following topics:

- Surveillance Tools, Diagnostics and an Artificial Diet to Support New Approaches to Vector Control.
- New Approaches for Addressing Outdoor/Residual Malaria Transmission
- New Ways to Reduce Pneumonia Fatalities through Timely, Effective Treatment of Children
- Enable Universal Acceptance of Mobile Money Payments to Create an Economic Ecosystem that Will Help Lift the Poorest Out of Poverty
- Explore New Ways to Measure Brain Development and Gestational Age
- New Ways of Working Together: Integrating Community-Based Interventions

Initial grants will be US $100,000 each, and projects showing promise will have the opportunity to receive additional funding of up to US $1 million. Full descriptions of the new topics and application instructions are available at: www.grandchallenges.org/explorations.

We look forward to receiving innovative ideas from around the world and from all disciplines. If you have a great idea, please apply. If you know someone who may have a great idea, please forward this message.

Please also note our Global Health Innovation Group on LinkedIn. Developed in collaboration with Grand Challenges Canada, this group offers a platform to connect and communicate with innovators from around the world. Anyone with a LinkedIn account can join and make use of this forum.

<<http://careers.state.gov/work/fellowships/franklin-fellows>>.

Researchers may apply on their own, or be nominated by their institution. There is no limit to how many people an institution may nominate, and applications are accepted year round.

This opportunity is for mid/upper level expert professionals who are US citizens and are able to obtain a security clearance as part of the application to the program. Clearance is not needed prior to applying.

This is an unfunded fellowship. Sponsoring institutions, which nominate Fellows, can continue to provide compensation and benefits during the period of the fellowship (one year).

PCORI Offers New Funding Support for Meetings and Events

Do you have ideas for a symposium, workshop, or other event focused on developing and sharing information about patient-centered comparative clinical effectiveness research (CER)? Our Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards program today announced a new funding opportunity to support such initiatives. Eligible organizations may begin applying immediately for these awards, ranging from $50,000 to $250,000. This is the latest addition to our Engagement Awards program, which supports a range of projects that encourage involvement by patients, clinicians, and other healthcare stakeholders in the work we do

American Psychological Foundation - Lizette Peterson-Homer Injury Prevention Grant Award

The Lizette Peterson Homer Memorial Injury Research Grant supports research into psychological and behavioral aspects of the prevention of injuries in children and adolescents as reflected in the activities and interests within pediatric psychology of the late Lizette Peterson-Homer and her commitment to improving the status of children in the face of the most significant threats to their health and development. This grant is open to students and faculty to support research related to the prevention of injuries in children and adolescents. Funding is available up to $5,000 and is sponsored jointly by the American Psychological Foundation and APA Div. 54.

Closing Date: October 1, 2014

PCORI – Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards Program

The Engagement Awards were created to forge opportunities for patients and other stakeholder communities to become more involved in patient-centered research. Each award provides support for up to $250,000 with a project period of no more than two years. In 2014, PCORI will award up to $15 million to support projects in three categories:

- Knowledge Awards
- Training and Development Awards
- Dissemination Awards

Together, the awards will help establish a diverse community of passionate individuals with opportunities to participate in patient-centered research. More information about the Eugene Washington PCORI Engagement Awards.

Letters of Inquiry (LOI) are received on a rolling basis.

PCORI Funding Opportunities

PCORI has three broad funding cycles a year. Starting with May 2013, cycles are designated by the month and year that applications are due. More targeted and special funding opportunities may be available outside of these cycles.

There are some differences in the latest round of PFAs, issued Feb. 5, including the fact that for many of them, Letters of Intent (LOIs) are competitive. This means they'll be reviewed for their responsiveness and fit with program goals and authors will be notified if they're invited to submit a full application. Be sure to check the details of the PFA to which you're applying.

American Diabetes Association Research Programs - Notice of Change in Grant Cycle for 2015 Funding

Over the past few years, the Association has seen operational expenses for employee costs, mission activities and fundraising activities increase. Unfortunately, our revenue growth has not been able to keep pace. We are continuing to work diligently to improve revenue results for 2014, while closely monitoring expenses and maintaining our focus on strengthening efficiencies and maximizing the impact of every donor dollar.

Under these circumstances, the Association has postponed the upcoming Core Research Program call for applications that was planned for an October submission deadline. We will know more when the organizational budget for 2015 is approved at the end of 2014, and additional information regarding the timing of future Core Research Program grant cycles will be posted on our website as it becomes available. The American Diabetes Association® Pathway to Stop Diabetes® and Targeted Research initiatives will proceed as scheduled.

We apologize for the inconvenience and thank you for your patience as we work as an organization to improve our financial health, so that we may continue to provide critical support for diabetes research over the long term and best serve people with diabetes.
