Urban Evolution: Optimizing Women’s Health in the World’s Cities

Wednesday, March 22, 2017, 2:00–5:00 p.m.
Rotunda, Joseph B. Martin Conference Center, 77 Avenue Louis Pasteur, Boston, MA

Welcome, Opening Remarks, and Introductions
Karen Emmons, Dean of Academic Affairs, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health
Wafaie Fawzi, Chair, Department of Global Health and Population
Ana Langer, Director, Women and Health Initiative

Keynote Address
Monica Valdes Lupi, Executive Director, Boston Public Health Commission

Panel Discussion
Moderator: David Canning, Richard Saltonstall Professor of Population Sciences
Marcia Castro, Associate Professor of Demography
Lynn Freedman, Professor, Population and Family Health, Columbia University
Günther Fink, Associate Professor of International Health Economics

Panel Discussion
Moderator: Ana Langer
Jacqueline Bhabha, Professor of the Practice of Health and Human Rights
Margaret Kruk, Associate Professor of Global Health
Margaret McConnell, Assistant Professor of Global Health Economics

Closing Remarks
Ana Langer

Poster Awards & Reception

To secure a seat at this event, registration is strongly advised. Please register at: www.hsph.harvard.edu/ghp

This event will not be recorded.